COVID-19 field work update: Cardinal-Hickory Creek

Updated March 17, 2021

As energy providers in the Upper Midwest, ATC, ITC Midwest and Dairyland Power Cooperative are committed to keeping your lights on. While the safety of our employees, contractors, landowners and the public is always a top priority, our focus on safety during the pandemic is paramount. As of March 2021, ATC and ITC Midwest have adapted the following protocols for communication and interaction with landowners:

Along the ATC-owned portion of the route, contractors and employees of ATC who must conduct their jobs on landowner property will continue to follow safety guidelines recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or Local Health Departments. For their safety and yours, please practice social distance guidelines when interacting with any onsite field crews. All other correspondence with landowners where onsite visits are not required will continue by email, phone, or mail.

Along the ITC Midwest-owned portion of the Wisconsin route and the Iowa route segment, ITC Midwest will continue to employ social distancing and other appropriate measures while conducting pre-construction and construction activities. No face-to-face interaction with landowners is required. Any required landowner communication can be accomplished via telephone, email or mail.

We appreciate your understanding and hope you remain well. If you have any questions, please contact:
